About the Metropolitan Washington Council, AFL-CIO

As the voice of working people in local communities across the United States, the AFL-CIO Central Labor Councils are the heart of the American labor movement.

By uniting the labor movement and mobilizing the local community, the Councils play a critical role on local, state and national issues as we work to accomplish our mission “To organize in the community to promote social justice for all working people.”

The Metropolitan Washington Council is proud to be at the forefront of this movement, working with nearly 200 affiliated union locals and our community, religious, student and political allies to improve the lives of workers and their families throughout the greater metro Washington area.

Each year, the Council coordinates strategy and organizes demonstrations to support affiliated locals organizing workers or negotiating union contracts; provides emergency services and legal counseling for workers and supports activities on behalf of political candidates who support workers' issues.

For the latest news on the local labor movement, subscribe to UNION CITY!, the Council's free publication distributed twice-weekly via email and fax: call 202-974-8150 or email us at streetheat@dclabor.org

The Council's affiliates represent over 150,000 area union members in every line of work, from service industries, retail sales and communications to transportation, manufacturing, construction trades and, of course, the public sector at all levels.

Union Cities

The Metropolitan Washington Council, AFL-CIO is proud to be an award-winning Union City. The AFL-CIO Union Cities initiative unites international unions, state federations, central labor councils and local unions in a common effort to educate and motivate union members, defend the right of workers to join unions, organize thousands of new members and create a powerful new voice that speaks for working families.

ABOUT THIS DIRECTORY

Completely updated and reorganized, this Directory includes current information on all Metro Washington Council affiliates as of press-time. Corrections can be emailed to streetheat@dclabor.org

New this year:

- Union Shop Guide: designed to help you find and patronize union businesses throughout the metropolitan Washington area.
- Handy tabs on the right to help you navigate through the Directory more quickly; entries are organized alphabetically and numerically. A cross-referenced Index starts on page 70
- Online PDF version of the Directory is also being published and posted at www.dclabor.org. The PDF version will be updated regularly: watch the UNION CITY newsletter for details. Subscribe free at www.dclabor.org

We hope this Directory is useful: comments, suggestions and updates are always welcome and can be emailed to streetheat@dclabor.org or call 202-756-4155.

The Council's Union City program coordinates the Street Heat mobilization network of more than 20,000 local activists -- one of the biggest in the nation -- who keep up and regularly turn out for solidarity actions, alerted through UNION CITY!, a twice-weekly free email newsletter distributed to activists, allies, media and political leaders (sign up via website, phone, fax or email below.) Union Cities provides extensive strategic and logistical support to Council affiliates organizing workers or negotiating contracts.

The Union City program also hosts regular Organizing Roundtables, coordinates the annual DC Labor FilmFest, and works with allies in the religious community on the Labor in the Pulpits/On the Bimah/Minbar program, as well as the annual Workers Memorial Day observance and Voice@Work campaign.

The Union City program works year-round to reintegrate the labor movement into our local community, building long-term, mutually beneficial relationships with community, religious, student and senior allies who share our commitment to helping working people improve their lives.

Committee on Political Education (COPE)

The Metropolitan Labor Council coordinates lobbying and legislative activities at the DC City Council, the Montgomery County Council, the Prince George's County Council, and the County Commissions in Charles, Calvert and St. Mary's Counties. The Labor Council also works directly with the Maryland State & DC AFL-CIO during the Maryland General Assembly, promoting labor interests through legislative activities such as lobbying and member mobilization and political activities including screening and endorsements of candidates, get-out-the-vote activities, and mobilization of members for grassroots actions.

Community Services Agency

The Community Services Agency (CSA) of the Metropolitan Washington Council, AFL-CIO, is the only labor-sponsored charitable organization in the metro area.

While providing most services to anyone needing help, the CSA's special emphasis is on unions and their members in Northern Virginia, suburban Maryland and Washington, D.C.

The CSA not only assists workers in their time of need, but also works to harness and share the generosity of the local labor movement as we work to make our communities better places to live.

CSA's services include information and referral services, including financial, housing, family and legal problems, limited emergency financial assistance, lay-off preparation workshops, Holiday Basket Project, Union Community Activist Network Training, Future Force Youth Workforce Development programs, including Building Futures and the DC Apprenticeship Outreach and Recruitment Project. CSA is a United Way/CFC agency: Designation # 8253

Claimant Advocacy Program

The Claimant Advocacy Program (CAP) is a free legal counseling service available to individuals who file unemployment compensation appeals in the District of Columbia. CAP attorneys meet with workers denied unemployment compensation in D.C. or whose benefit awards have been appealed by the employer. If the case is accepted, the CAP attorney appears at the hearing as the worker's legal representative.

Representation is made on a case-by-case basis based on the facts of each appeals claim. However, all claimants can receive free legal counseling.

DC Labor FilmFest

Since 2001 the DC Labor FilmFest has screened dozens of films about work and workers, bringing directors, stars, workers and activists together in an annual celebration of the struggle for economic and social justice. Sponsored by the Metro Washington Council, AFL-CIO, the Debs-Jones-Douglass Institute and the American Film Institute, the Labor FilmFest is one of the only film festivals in the world dedicated to screening films featuring workers and workers' issues. The DC Labor FilmFest continues to grow in popularity and is one of the most-anticipated events on the local labor calendar. The FilmFest specializes in bringing new labor-related films to local audiences, as well as presenting high-quality prints of classic labor films. Highlights of recent FilmFests' include the DC premiere of Costa Gavras' "The Ax", Jane Fonda hosting a 25th anniversary screening of "9 to 5", a special screening of "Harlan County, USA" with director Barbara Kopple, the restored print of Gillo Pontecorvo's "Burn!", Stephen Frears' "Dirty Pretty Things" and many more.

"Every gun that is made, every warship launched, every rocket fired, signifies, in the final sense a theft from those who hunger and are not fed, those who are cold and are not clothed. The world in arms is not spending money alone. It is spending the sweat of its laborers, the genius of its scientists, the hopes of its children"

The labor movement is organized upon a principle that the strong shall help the weak. The strength of a strong man is a prideful thing, but the unfortunate thing in life is that strong men do not remain strong. And it is just as true of unions and labor organizations as is true of men and individuals. And whereas today the craft unions of this country may be able to stand upon their own feet and like mighty oaks stand before the gale, defy the lightning, yet the day may come when those organizations will not be able to withstand the lightning and the gale. Now, prepare yourselves by making a contribution to your less fortunate brethren...
Organize the unorganized!
- John L. Lewis

If the workers took a notion
they could stop all speeding trains;
Every ship upon the ocean
they can tie with mighty chains.
Every wheel in the creation,
every mine and every mill;
Fleets and armies of the nation,
will at their command stand still.
- Joe Hill

I dreamed that I had died
 And gone to my reward
 A job in heaven's textile plant
 On a golden boulevard.

The mill was made of marble
 The machines were made of gold
 And nobody ever got tired
 And nobody ever grew old.

- Joe Glazer, 1918-2006
