2016 DC Election Candidate Questionnaire

Washington National and Dulles airports are an important source of employment for people in our communities. But instead of helping our communities move ahead, the low wages and poor conditions for food and retail workers at these airports are keeping workers behind. At Dulles, the estimated average wage for retail and food service workers is just $9.74 per hour yet for every hour worked by a concessions employee at the airport, the government makes an estimated $14. Major airports across the country have taken great strides in giving retail and food service workers a better deal by working with UNITE HERE. We believe that airport concessions workers in our nation’s capital deserve the same. D.C. appoints several members to the Metropolitan Washington Airports Authority which governs these airports.

1)		What would you do to ensure that National and Dulles airport food and retail workers are paid fair wages and benefits?
		Answer A
		I support the Fight for $15. Short of federal action on raising the minimum wage, MWAA is the only governing body with authority to improve wages for our airport workers. As Councilmember, I would work with the DC Mayor’s Office to make sure all three of the District’s allocated MWAA members would support extending MWAA’s current living wage policy to contracts between airlines and contractors at Washington National and Dulles.

Many studies have shown that good patient outcomes and short hospital stays require adequate numbers of registered professional nurses at the bedside. When there are fewer RN’s to care for more and increasingly ill patients, complications multiply and expensive hospital stays are increased.

2)		Do you support the Safe Working Conditions for Healthcare Workers Amendment Act of 2015, also known as the Patient Protection Act, introduced by Chairman Phil Mendelson and four other members of the District Council (and passed 4-1 by the Committee on Business, Regulatory and Consumer Affairs) that would impose mandatory, minimum nurse-to-patient ratios in DC hospitals?

More and more companies are springing up offering visitors to the City options other than registered businesses such as hotels and bed and breakfast inns, such as stays in people's homes and apartments in residential neighborhoods. This causes noise, parking problems, and loss of tax revenue.

3)		Do you support stronger enforcement of our zoning laws, which are designed to protect our neighborhoods and affordable housing from the unchecked growth of short-term rentals?
		Yes <input type="checkbox"/>    No <input checked="" type="checkbox"/>

these events, paying lowest wages tolerated, providing no healthcare, offering no job training to enhance the skill set, and treating these workers as “1099 independent contractors”, thereby avoiding Social Security and payroll taxes. This situation also disadvantages the “brick and mortar” permanent facilities providing arts and entertainment in our city.

4)		Would you be willing to support DC legislation that would require any and all presenters, promoters, vendors, “Events DC”, et al doing any form of for-profit theatrical presentation, show or concert on City property or on property controlled by the City to pay all of their employees an area-standard wage, provide health care coverage and access to job training in the Technical Entertainment Industry?

The Davis-Bacon Act of 1931 requires the payment of local prevailing wages for the construction of DC government public works projects, such as public schools, fire and police stations, and roads and bridges. Relying on a narrow definition of public works that is currently the subject of a court challenge, the District requires some government-assisted development projects to pay construction workers the local Davis Bacon wages, but not others. For example, development projects receiving Tax Increment Financing from the District are required to pay their construction workers local prevailing wages, but projects receiving property and other types of tax abatements, using the District’s industrial revenue bond program, or leasing or purchasing District-owned land are not required to pay local prevailing wages.

5)		As a DC Councilmember, will you introduce and support legislation to require the payment of Davis Bacon wages by construction contractors and subcontractors working on ALL projects receiving property and other tax abatements, involving the sale or lease of District-owned land, or participating in the revenue bond program?
		Yes <input checked="" type="checkbox"/>    No <input type="checkbox"/>

6)		What 2-3 things would you do to close the large and growing achievement gaps in our public schools? What would you do to ensure that all students and their schools have a healthy physical environment, quality teachers, instructional supplies and other resources they need to be successful?
		For two and a half years, I was a substitute teacher in District of Columbia Public Schools. I worked in 40 schools across the District – in every ward, every feeder pattern, and every age, ability, and discipline level. This opportunity has allowed me to see firsthand the kind of educational environments and opportunities that exist across the District. As a Councilmember, I will fight to ensure that school models that are doing an excellent job have the opportunity to educate more of our kids. I will work to give our principals more freedom so that they are not held back from building the best schools they can build. I will invest more resources in wraparound services and afterschool programming to ensure that students are receiving the out-of-school support necessary to lead to in-school success. I will push to allow our teachers to spend less time focusing on testing, and more time engaging, inspiring, and teaching. As an At-Large member of the Council, I will also do better by the whole city to narrow the economic disparity across neighborhoods in the city, bringing opportunities where they haven't been fostered to date, and making sure there is ample access, via investments in housing and transportation, to the places those opportunities exist now.

7)		The collective bargaining agreement covering DC teachers expired 3 years ago. The effect of this is to deny collective bargaining rights to those who democratically voted to join a union. What is the role of the City Council in ensuring that contract negotiations are not intentionally stalled by labor or by management? How would you ensure that the voice of workers is heard and encourage a broader, productive, and a more healthy labor/management relationship?
		As a member of the Council my goal will be to support improved working conditions for DCPS teacher. Whether attending rallies on behalf of labor, or encouraging DCPS administrators to reach an agreement, I am committed to being an active supporter of labor and the collective bargaining process.

Congress extended the Abolishment Act (D.C. Code §§ 1-624.08 et seq.), effectively allowing the DC government to define the procedures governing any RIF initiated by an agency head, by limiting the procedures to which an aggrieved employee is entitled, and rendering those procedures nonnegotiable. Although this was a misguided effort to help DC government reduce costs, agency heads exploited this Act, often using it as a means to rid their agencies of unpopular employees. The use of such improperly targeted RIF's is an abuse of authority and does not serve the interests of the District. DC workers covered by a collective bargaining agreement have been unfairly deprived of any meaningful opportunity to assert the rights that they were intended to have under the District of Columbia Comprehensive Merit Personnel Act.

In October 2015, the DC City Council passed emergency legislation creating a pilot program to address the “crisis” in the management of Emergency Medical Services. The emergency legislation created a two-tiered strategy of EMS calls: Basic Firefighters/Emergency Medical Technicians (EMT) would respond to all EMS calls. Patients with low priority medical conditions would be required to wait for a private ambulance to transport them to a hospital. If a private ambulance does not arrive in 10 minutes, the patients would then be required to wait for a fully staffed EMS medic unit to arrive.

The EMS stakeholders consists of many unique and well-trained committed individuals who have a vested interest in the well-being of the District of Columbia residents who depend on emergency services. They are committed to delivering quality care, providing safe transport, and ensuring that DC residents receive continuous care before and during their transport to the appropriate facility.
