Metropolitan Washington Council AFL-CIO 2018 PG/Montgomery Counties Primary Election Candidate Questionnaire

- A. Workplace Rights: (Please answer by checking the box)
1. Would you support comprehensive bargaining legislation that would provide collective bargaining rights (including exclusivity, binding arbitration and an independent labor board) for all public employees-local, county, school boards and state?
- Support Oppose Not sure
2. The right of workers to organize and have union representation
- Support Oppose Not sure
3. The right to freely exercise workplace rights free from harassment, intimidation and/or delays
- Support Oppose Not sure
4. The right to bargain collectively with a legal obligation on both sides to negotiate in good faith
- Support Oppose Not sure
5. The right to resolve differences in a fair, impartial and timely manner, including binding arbitration
- Support Oppose Not sure
- What is your position on each of these fundamental rights?

6. Would you support Right-to-Work in Maryland? The National Labor Relations Act grants private sector workers the right to organize themselves and be represented by a union in collective bargaining negotiations. From time to time, opponents of collective bargaining propose legislation under the name of "Right-to-Work," this legislation and effectiveness. Under the innocuous sounding name of "Right-to-Work," this legislation purports to protect the rights of workers and improve the state's economic development climate. But the net result in Right-to Work states is that workers earn less, have fewer health care benefits and have higher job fatality rates. Right-to Work laws prohibit workers from negotiating a "union shop" or "union security" clause in their contracts. Such a clause obligates those in the bargaining unit to pay their fair share of the collective bargaining representation costs. By whipping out that protection, Right-to Work actually weakens the rights of working people.	<input type="checkbox"/> Yes <input type="checkbox"/> No <input type="checkbox"/> Not sure
7. What is your position on the so-called paycheck protection idea? Opponents of the labor movement have tried in recent years to stifle labor's political and legislative voice through a friendly sounding proposal called "paycheck protection." It proposes to give rank and file members more control over how their dues money is spent. It does so by requiring unions to spend an incalculable amount of time and money jumping through bureaucratic hoops. The net effect is that it would make it virtually impossible for unions to represent their members in the political and legislative arenas.	<input type="checkbox"/> Support <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Oppose <input type="checkbox"/> Not sure
8. What is your position on granting collective bargaining rights to community college employees? Maryland's community colleges were established by state law and receive part of their funding from the state. Yet, unlike K-12 public school employees in each county, community college workers do not have the right to organize and engage in collective bargaining.	<input type="checkbox"/> Yes <input type="checkbox"/> No <input type="checkbox"/> Not sure
9. In your opinion, should a union be permitted to collect a service fee from non-members for the cost of union representation as long as there are protections for those members, the union must represent them fully and fairly. In other words, those who pay dues are obliged to represent every worker in the unit. Even when some people choose to be non-members, the union must represent them fully and fairly. When workers choose an exclusive collective bargaining representative, that union is legally obligated to subsidize those who don't.	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Yes <input type="checkbox"/> No <input type="checkbox"/> Not sure

- As health care costs continue to escalate, many Marylanders do not have access to affordable quality health care services.
3. The rates of workplace violence in health care settings have risen to epidemic proportions. The Bureau of Labor Statistics showed that 48% of all non-fatal injuries from occupational assaults and violent acts occurred in healthcare and social service settings. Healthcare workers specifically are five times more likely, than all other major industries, to be the victim of assault. Thus far, California is the only state to have passed comprehensive workplace violence prevention legislation to protect workers in Maryland?

4. What should the next Administration and General Assembly do to solve this problem?
- Leave it to the federal government to fix
 Do nothing/monitor the situation
 Adopt a state universal health care system
 Provide coverage to the uninsured but leave private insurance plans in place

1. As a Montgomery County elected official, will you introduce and support legislation to close the loophole and extend the County's prevailing wage law to cover County school construction projects?

According to OLO Report 2017-4, "New School Construction Costs," by Stephanie Bryant, to avoid paying prevailing wages on its school construction projects, MCFPs does not request more than 24.9 percent of state funding for any school projects.

Montgomery County's prevailing wage law occurs when the state funds 75% or more of total project costs. State's prevailing wage law is governed solely by the State's prevailing wage law. The threshold for applying construction is common or "prevailing" for a specific job in a specific geographic location. They prevent contractors from undermining local employment by low bidding or bidding in workers at lower wages.

MCFPs is budgeting its school construction projects to avoid paying prevailing wage wages—seeking to achieve cost savings by paying construction workers as little as possible in a county with a high cost of living.

Montgomery County enacted its prevailing wage legislation in 1945. Montgomery County enacted its prevailing wage law in 2008, but excluded school construction projects. Consequently, MCFPs prevails in its budgeting its school construction projects to avoid paying prevailing wage wages—seeking to achieve cost savings by paying construction workers as little as possible in a county with a high cost of living.

1. As a Montgomery County elected official, will you introduce and support legislation to require PLAs on County construction projects valued at $20 million or more unless the County Executive indicates in writing why a PLA on a particular project would not be in the best interest of residents?

Other jurisdictions have also adopted PLA ordinances. For example, in Prince George's County, the County Executive has had express authority since 2011 to execute PLAs on County-funded projects of $1 million or more. In the District of Columbia, a law was passed in 2016 requiring PLAs on city-funded construction projects valued at $75 million or more, unless the Mayor indicates in writing that such an agreement is not in the best interest of the District.

Across the DMV area, LIUNA has been successful securing PLAs on a wide range of projects, including HOT Lanes in Virginia, among others. This pipeline of projects enables laborer apprentices to move from project to project as one ends and another begins, accumulating the hours they need to graduate and become journey workers earning family-supporting wages.

Project Labor Agreements (PLAs) have been proven to bring in projects on time and on budget. They also have the added benefit of building community partnerships with contractors and unions to hire locally, provide family healthcare, pensions, and a career path for residents.

1. As a Prince George's County elected official, will you introduce and support legislation to require PLAs on County construction projects valued at $20 million or more unless the County Executive indicates in writing why a PLA on a particular project would not be in the best interest of residents?

While the County Executive for Prince George's County has had the express authority since 2011 to execute PLAs on County-funded projects of $1 million or more, only one project (the Brandywine Firehouse in 2012) was built with a PLA. There has been virtually no effort by the County Executive to utilize this authority since then.

Across the DMV, LIUNA has been successful securing PLAs on a wide range of projects, including the DC United Soccer Stadium, the Wizards Practice Facility, the Northeast Boundary Tunnel, and the South Capitol Street Bridge in Washington, DC; the Purple Line in Maryland; and the 395 HOT Lanes in Virginia, among others. This pipeline of projects enables laborer apprentices to move from project to project as one ends and another begins, accumulating the hours they need to graduate and become journey workers earning family-supporting wages.

They also have the added benefit of building community partnerships with contractors and unions to hire locally, provide family healthcare, pensions, and a career path for residents.

2. As a Prince George's County elected official, will you introduce and support legislation to amend the County's local hiring and apprenticeship ordinances to set firm requirements rather than "best efforts" or aspirational goals for County contractors?

Despite these dire statistics, the County's local hiring ordinance only sets "best efforts," aspirational goals for County contractors. In contrast, other jurisdictions that have adopted local hiring ordinances have established very specific requirements for their contractors, and levy fines when violations occur. Some of these jurisdictions include the District of Columbia, San Francisco, Pittsburgh, Seattle, and Milwaukee.

Prince George's County has pockets of poverty and high unemployment. According to The Workforce Landscape in Prince George's County, nearly 10 percent of residents live in poverty, and many of the communities that border the District of Columbia have unemployment rates in the double-digits, including Oxon Hill, Bladensburg, Capitol Heights, and Hyattsville.

3. Short-term rental companies like, Airbnb, have grown exponentially in the last few years. In order to protect our neighborhoods and communities against commercial operators who convert valuable housing to de facto hotels, do you support stronger regulations of short-term rentals that would track short-term rentals, limit them to primary residences, and put a reasonable cap on the amount of days a host can share their home not present?

4. During the past several years, real estate developers have taken advantage of Prince George's County by seeking financial subsidies for low-quality, sprawl developments with no protections to ensure high-quality jobs are created or that workers are treated fairly. This approach is exacerbating inequality in the County. Would you require developers to hold to high standards for job quality, and work to ensure the right of their employees to join a union without fear or intimidation, whenever the County is involved in development projects?

1. Transportation: (Please provide your response on a separate sheet).
1. Going into WMATA's FY2019 budget season, politicians, community groups, labor, and business groups have weighed in on the dedicated funding debate. If you are elected, what would you propose to provide WMATA dedicated funding, and how would you navigate the politics of the situation and unite the jurisdictions around your proposal?
2. In the last few months, there have been several major safety concerns that have been raised publicly?
3. ATU Local 689 leadership and members. From operator assaults to issues with the 7000 series trains, the public has seen that WMATA management doesn't seem to be able to create a true safety culture at WMATA and solving some of the recent safety issues, like operator assault, that have been brought to the forefront?
4. In addition, how would you work with labor to help tackle the larger issue of establishing a safety culture at WMATA and solve some of the recent safety issues, like operator assault, that have been brought to the forefront?
5. With the recent revelation that WMATA and ATU Local 689 have reached an impasse in negotiations due to their inability to agree regarding the employee's defined benefit pension, many politicians and advocates for privatization have tried to make a case for lowering "labor costs" by eliminating hard earned, very basic worker protections. How would you champion worker protections and change the narrative surrounding "labor costs" and defined benefit pension costs?
6. In the last six months, there has been a lot of discussion surrounding the possibility of the establishment of a federal control board to run WMATA. If that happened, the possibility of the elimination legally binding labor contracts would become a reality, endangering thousands of workers. What are your thoughts regarding the takeover of a federal control board and would you be open to adding a labor seat to the WMATA Board?
7. Bail Reform: (Please provide your response on a separate sheet).
- Under the current money bail system, judges in Maryland typically set financial conditions of release, with little consideration as to whether the defendant can meet them. Defendants must then either pay the court or a commercial bail bondsman to get out of jail. Those who can't afford bond often remain incarcerated until their cases go to trial, sometimes for periods of weeks or longer.
1. Maryland's highest court approved key changes to the state's bail system, setting into motion a reform designed to keep defendants from languishing in jail before trial simply because they're poor, do you support Bail Reform Efforts?

Thank you.
